the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 12.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased from 4.5 million to 6.5 million (Office of National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people in the community. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out a vision for the future of older people's services. The strategy is based on the principle of 'active ageing', which is the process of enabling older people to live a life of health, independence and participation in society. The strategy also sets out a number of key objectives, including: to improve the health and well-being of older people; to promote social inclusion and participation; to support older people to live independently; and to ensure that older people have access to the services and support they need.

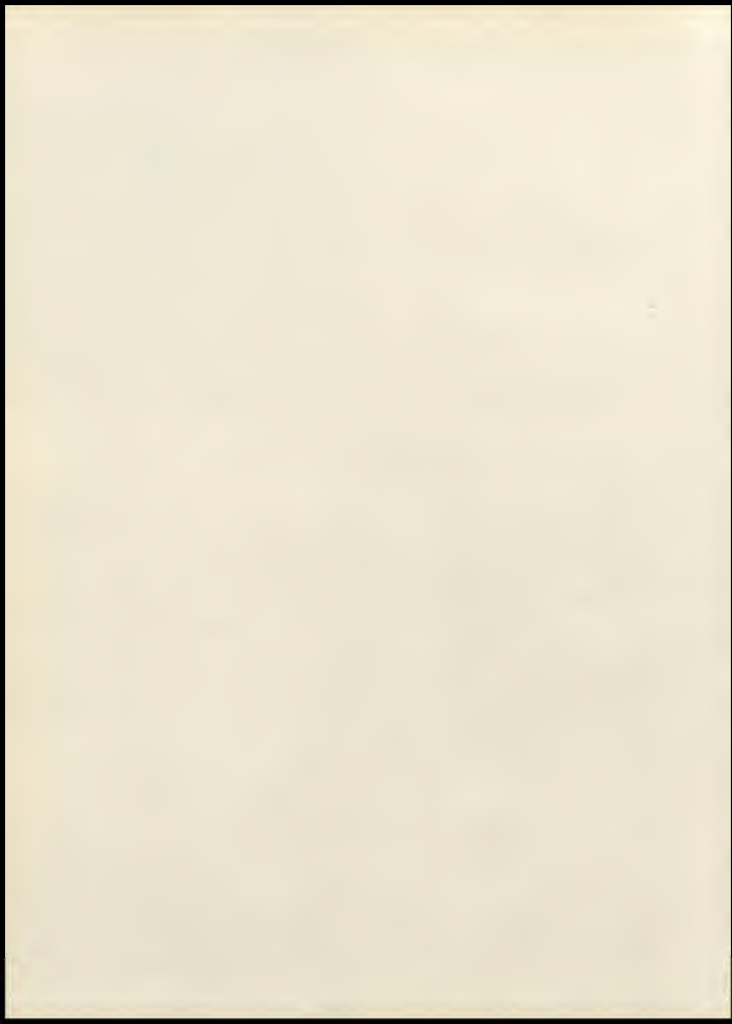

The strategy is a key document for the development of older people's services in the UK. It provides a framework for the development of policies and services, and sets out a number of key objectives. LAMP

To every life there is a beginning and an end knit together

by a series of dramatic events.

And so it is with high school life.

We, the Editors, are presenting a panorama composed of individual stories,
each one unique.

Yet, unlike many, our stories
do not end in this book.

For most, the greater plot is still to be written.

THE EDITORS

Mrs. Evelyn Bernetich

DEDICATION

The success of our class lies in the efforts of not one advisor, but two. As a small token of our appreciation, we, the Class of 1965, dedicate this volume of the LAMP to Mrs. Evelyn Bernetich and Mr. Edward Vater.

Recognition must also be given to Miss Sandra Goldfarb, who contributed to us invaluable talent and enthusiasm, spurring us on to a spirited Senior year.

Mr. Edward Vater

George W. Bountress

Among the thoughts of a senior class as it looks ahead at Commencement are those which have to do with its claim for uniqueness. What is that special something that sets the Class of 1965 apart from its predecessors?

One class, as it pondered its existence, defined the conditions of the time complex. A later class sought to analyze the complexity, and a third discovered that young people were searching for values at a time when value systems appeared to be competing with one another. In all three cases, young people were aware of change.

Whether by a metamorphic sequence or not, the Class of 1965 has discovered the basic and essential ingredient for producing and coping with change—a soundly oriented action process. It has chosen a greater share of the responsibility for and consequences of its conduct. It feels that it must justify more clearly and convincingly the faith and respect of those from whom it seeks these judgments.

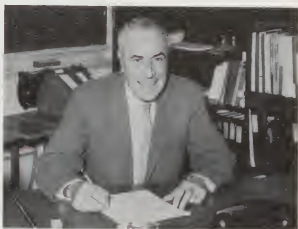

This is the uniqueness of the Class of 1965. It is with a great measure of pride and faith in you that we extend best wishes for your future.

"TRY TO REMEMBER . . ."

Ugh! Me Freshman. Me beatum tom-tom for mighty Senior Chief . . . Gym, health, and—one study hall a week?! . . . What! Freshmen win the Magazine Drive? . . . Just keep sweeping that gym floor, Seniors . . . No more second lunch. Now we can eat . . . What are those maps doing in the West Corridor? . . . I'll write the essay during my fifth period Music and Man study hall . . . A whole period of French?! We may even have homework . . . Has Miss Narsis taken up chicken raising? . . . Remember when we laughed at the high school kids who had to take midyears . . . Who preached the Third Crusade? . . .

Take cover! Beware of the bomb! . . . Ubi est Gallia? . . . Not-so-wise-fools . . . Stringing noodles at Knapp's house. Crowded Cafe Berlino, an off-beat dance for an off-beat class . . . Recruits from St. Paul's . . . Those Sophomores will never win the Magazine Drive again . . . What! No sports! We'll take this to town hall! . . . I hear Mr. Goodrow follows the adventures of Dick and Jane regularly now. It all started with that magazine he received . . .

How long can you spin your class ring? . . . In 1492, Columbus sailed the Ocean blue, and all that jazz . . . Did you see Mr. Kilgariff's new hair-do? He found the style in some magazine . . . Those Juniors can't win the Magazine Drive three years in a row! (Can they?) . . . November 22: Betsy and Charlie reigned over a blue, Blue Grotto. Our country had lost a great man . . . Come drown yourself in the cool, cool waters of Undertow . . . Dig that mermaid! . . . Sorry I'm late to class, but I had a hard time digging through the snow drifts . . . Whatever happened to those snow days? . . . Honk! Honk! Here comes another victory parade . . .

We're Seniors! But is it "Seniors at last!" or "Seniors so soon?!" . . . Cherubs and Demons alike bow before us mighty Seniors . . . Well, look at it this way: We couldn't deprive the other classes who are on the brink of bankruptcy from the profits in the Magazine Drive so we decided to be generous, humane, magnanimous, and beneficial and we allowed another class to win . . . Mar a Car or Fun at the Fair . . . College applications, jobs after graduation, keep planning ahead, work, work, work . . . Did you join Mr. Spieler's Humpty Dumpty Fan Club? . . . You say you were bitten by a rabid gopher on Senior Court? . . . Senioritis has set in . . . Don't abuse your Senior Privileges . . . "South Pacific" in May . . . Senior Ball: Let's get this crepe-paper ceiling up . . . Graduation: a proud day for every Senior . . . Good-bye Berlin High.

Exemplifying true runners at heart and showing dedication under Coach Kaminski, the Berlin High Harriers gained much experience in a rebuilding season. Mastery of the skills of running can only be gained through an honest devotion to the sport and by maintaining a rigid training schedule. B.H.S. is eagerly awaiting another active season of competition.

As the last of the B.H.S. spectators filed off the Plainfield gridiron, everyone was impressed by the great sportsmanship the Redcoats had displayed throughout their '64 season.

A season's record cannot show the hours of practice, "chalktalk sessions", sweat, and anxiety that are a part of each team member's life from August to November.

Coach Nuccio and his staff should be commended for maintaining the morale of the boys after frustrating defeats. A few breaks and the season could have ended on an entirely different note.

A tapestry on the mountain there

Blended blue on the ranges afar

Proud trees stripped bare of the foolish young leaves

The startling beauty of things to come
